HOSPITAL BOARD SEEK TO CANCEL TOWN AGREEMENT

Following is a record of the proceedings of the council of the Town of Wainwright at its regular meeting in the council chamber on Tuesday. The members of council present at this meeting were Mayor Middleton and Councillors Link, Lismore, Welch, Billing, Robinson and Cook. The recorded proceedings of council at its regular meeting of October 19th, 1937 were read and, on motion by Coun. Robinson, were adopted and confirmed as written.

A communication from the Provincial Department of Health, relative to the maintenance of Pox Yee in the Central Alberta Sanatorium at Calgary, was presented to council, and on motion by Coun. Link, it was resolved that, as it has not been clearly established that this town is responsible in the matter and as the evidence shows that this party must have established a domicile elsewhere for a sufficient period to relieve this town of liability, we feel that the Town of Wainwright should receive full consideration and an offer be made without prejudice to the Province of $100.00 in full settlement of the account as far as the Town of Wainwright is concerned.

May Refer Bills to Empire Tribunal

OTTAWA—Alberta's bank taxation credit control and newspaper regulation bills, passed at the last special session of the legislature, will be subject to reference to the Supreme Court and probably the Privy Council, to determine if they will become law, Prime Minister Mackenzie King announced last week.

The Supreme Court will be asked to depart from its usual custom and "receive such evidence and admit such proof" as it may consider necessary in order to determine whether the bills, if allowed to become law, would be within the competence of the Alberta legislature.

In the meantime the reservation of assent, made by Lieutenant-Governor Bowen of Alberta pending signature of the bills and on the question of the dominion government's power of disallowance be carried to the privy council for final decision. The Governor General himself, acting on the advice of his ministers, will have final disposition of the bills, signifying or withholding royal assent after breaking up jams, to the competency of the legislature to enact the measures. Mr. Bowen's responsibility ceased when he referred the bills to Ottawa.

Edna Ferber's Best Seller 'Come & Get It' Portrayed

Impressive in its pictorialization of that quality of physical and elemental conflict "Come & Get It" is distinctively an adult attraction. It treats a delicate and intimate story with discriminate good taste.

The details depicting lumber camp activities, the felling of huge trees, getting the timber out of the snow-buried forests, showing the logs being floated and breaking up jams, together with the fury of a mob, take place before the actual story motivation gets under way.

between the Town of Wainwright and the Wainwright Municipal Hospital District in connection with the hospital treatment of indigents, and on motion by Coun. Link the secretary was instructed to write the Secretary of the Hospital District, requiring that all stores close for the day.

Wainwright To Celebrate Remembrance Day, Thur.

"When will I be old enough to go to war, Manny?" This is the remark of a small boy who had spent some time gazing at the war relics and souvenirs on display at the foot of a temporary cenotaph in the window of McLeod's furniture store. This display of relics was certainly not got together to foster any such spirit but rather to remind us of the horrors through which we had passed and of which we, unlike so much of the rest of the world, are free, at least temporarily.

All ex-service men and women parade at the fire hall at 10.45 a.m. together with the local troupe of the 19th Alberta Dragoons. At 11 a.m. at the Memorial Clock Tower two minutes silence will be held, flags dipped, wreaths laid and "Last Post" sounded after which service will be held in the Elit Theatre in charge of the Hon. President of the Wainwright Branch of the Canadian Legion, Rev. W. S. Brooker, assisted by the clergy of the other denominations represented in Wainwright.

At this service the guest speaker will be Col. F. C. Jamieson, V.D., war time commander of the 1st Divisional Cavalry, 18th Alberta Dragoons.

At the conclusion of this service Mr. A. S. MacLellan is in the city on business for a few days.

ELECTION RUMORS ARE UNFOUNDED SAYS KING

OTTAWA—Canada is not likely to have a general election until late in 1940 unless some unforeseen contingency arises, Prime Minister Mackenzie King stated last week end. He desired to set at rest rumors which he said had circulated recently that an early appeal to the people was to be expected.

Comments on election rumors came from the prime minister when he was being questioned by newspaper men last night following the cabinet meeting of last session of the week.

Mr. Frank Zajic motored to Calgary with his family last week. His son will remain there to attend a technical school.

What will probably be the largest buffalo kill at the park will be started shortly. Arrangements are now being made for this.

HON. J. RALSTON TO ACT FOR PRESS

EDMONTON.—Hon. J. L. Ralston, K.C., of Montreal, will present the case for the daily and weekly newspapers of Alberta in the reference to the Supreme Court of Canada to test validity of the Alberta act affecting newspapers, it is announced.

Decision to retain Mr. Ralston was made at a meeting of publishers in Edmonton. As chief counsel, he will be associated with S. B. Woods, K.C., and S. W. Field, K.C., of Edmonton, solicitors for the daily and weekly newspapers of Alberta.

CHINESE MISSIONARY SPEAKS THIS EVENING

Remembrance Day, Nov. 11, will be a public holiday in Wainwright, involving shut-down for the day of government offices, banks, courts and stores.

As a dominion holiday, proclaimed for all of Canada, Remembrance Day is included in a promulgation which specifies observance of any dominion holiday as a public holiday and requires that all stores close for the day.

At 8 p.m. that night the Legion's amateur hour will get underway and everything possible is being done in the way of preliminary staff work to make this show run smoothly and we confidently expect that from the opening remarks of his Worship the Mayor to the last note of the "Home Sweet Home" dance the whole thing will click and run like a well-oiled machine.

Arrangements are being made for the use of an amplifier at the concert and this should, and we expect will, make the smallest voice distinctly heard in any part of the hall.

Miss C. Ranka had guests on Sunday when her brother and his family drove over from Ponoka for the day.

Home Improvement Loans Now Over Eleven Millions

Loans totalling $11,004,817 distributed among 28,275 borrowers were made during the first complete year of operations under the home improvement plan of the dominion government, according to figures released from Ottawa. The report covers the period from Nov. 1, 1936, to Oct. 31, 1937. Alberta was fourth among the provinces.

Under the plan, the total loanable through the banks is $50,000,000. The dominion government provides a guarantee of 15 per cent of the aggregate value of loans made by each institution.

Ontario was the heaviest borrower under the plan with a total of $4,702,025 and 12,072 borrowers. Quebec was second at $2,105,293 divided among 4,238 borrowers.

Loans in other provinces and the number of borrowers were as follows: British Columbia, 3,063 loans amounting to $1,000,417; Alberta, 2,226 loans amounting to $951,553; Nova Scotia, 2,337 amounting to $736,021; Manitoba, 1,903 loans amounting to $714,959; New Brunswick, 1,201 loans amounting to $418,308; Saskatchewan, 789 loans amounting to $275,004; and Prince Edward Island, 596 loans amounting to $97,542.

MARTYR TO PRESS FREEDOM HONORED

AUGUSTA, Me.—Governor Barrows on Friday proclaimed Sunday last as Lovejoy Sunday "to reverberate the memory" of Elijah Parish Lovejoy, Colby college graduate, who gave his life in martyrdom 100 years ago at Alton, Ill., defending the freedom of the press.

Lovejoy, an editor, was killed by a mob as he defended his right to conduct an editorial crusade against the institution of "human slavery." "Throughout the past century," the governor said in his proclamation, "we, the people of this state and nation, have enjoyed the unquestioned right to freedom of speech and of opinion, which his (Lovejoy's) noble sacrifice helped to fix into the public consciousness."

The vast quantity of goods displayed in the window of the Armstrong store augurs well for the bazaar which the ladies of St. Andrew's (Pres.) church will stage on Saturday next in the L.O.O.F. hall. Tea is being served in the afternoon.

NOTICE

All readers are asked to note that in order to assist the Library Association in getting started, all persons having books which they are willing to donate to this effort may leave same either at the Star office, the Gas Company's office, or with Mr. J. A. Mackenzie in town. Books suitable for all ages of readers may be included.

RETURNED MEN

A few mere words of thanks would seem so small, I could not write them, speak them, think them. But tears will fall. And a surging pride akin to pain fills my heart when I see the valiant, the medals won, the memory eyes, Of Returned Men. While we Honor the Dead today, Honor the brave living; The Returned Men. All of them gave and thousands of them Are still giving. M. Josephine Turner.

GRAVELLED ROAD TO JASPER PARK

Growing in popularity, Jasper national park attracted 2,600 motor touring parties this season, according to official figures issued recently.

One reason and doubtless the principal one, which governed the traffic increase was the improved condition of the Jasper highway.

Gravelling of 53 miles of this highway, one-third of which was replacement surfacing, was undertaken this year by the Provincial Public Works department. This program has been practically completed. The result is that motorists now have an all-weather highway to Jasper park.

In 1936, no doubt, the provincial authorities will commence the first stages of hard surfacing of this highway.

Over 15 years ago, the Alberta Motor Association (Edmonton branch), took the initiative in urging the need of an all-weather highway to Jasper park. Other organizations, their support, with the result that the way is now being opened for thousands of visitors to include this route in their season's itinerary.

LITTLE DANGER OF ELIXIR IN CANADA

TORONTO, Ont.—Dominion health authorities are watching carefully to discover any possible importations into Canada of the "Elixir" which up to the end of last week had caused 36 deaths. Enquiry at the Toronto Branch of the Food and Drugs Division of the Dominion Department of Penitents and National Health reveals no imports up to a few days ago and in view of the wide search for the chemicals, by agents of the United States Food and Drug administration, it is not likely now that any bottles of the "Elixir" will turn up in Canada.

The "Elixir" is a compound containing the "red dye" which created so much interest early in July and was manufactured by a firm in Tennessee. The first deaths occurred in Tulsa, Okla. Nine persons having died from this "Elixir," an immediate effort was made to recall all shipments but upwards of 700 bottles had been distributed.

Should any of these bottles have got into Canada, it is believed the publicity given to the danger will result in their being turned over to Government authorities.

WEDDING BELLS

TILBURY—DANIELS At the United church manse on Friday afternoon a number of relatives witnessed the marriage of Frances Elizabeth, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Daniels of Greenfield, to Robert James, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Tilbury of Melita, Manitoba.

The bride was becomingly gowned in Cuban rust with brown accessories. She was attended by her sister, Doris, who wore Bagdad blue with grey accessories. The groom was supported by Martin Daniels, brother of the bride. The happy couple left immediately after the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. T. E. Armstrong for a short honeymoon. They will later take up residence on the groom's farm south of Greenfield.

STORES MUST CLOSE REMEMBRANCE DAY

Are you interested in China? In the war there? In missionaries? If so, hear Rev. John Kitchen on Wednesday evening at eight o'clock in the United church.

Rev. Kitchen is on furlough and is detained in Canada owing to the hostilities between Japan and China. He is spending the week in the Wainwright Presbytery.

Start Is Made On Erection Wainwright's Skat'g Rink

The Wainwright Community Sports Union is to be commended on the progressive attitude it is taking on the problem of fostering sports, and on its endeavour to build a better community spirit in Wainwright, through the medium of good sportsmanship.

With but two weeks since the organization meeting, the Union already boasts a membership of twenty of our local sportsmen, and this cooperation on the part of the citizens generally is certainly encouraging to the executive of the organization.

During the past week the Union has made a start on its first objective, a gang of men under the supervision of the executive having completed the levelling of a site for a better skating rink for our town. The location chosen is situated in the sports park site which was set aside by the Town Council to commemorate the Coronation.

It is planned to erect a full-size, open-air rink for the present season, and to improve upon it each year. The Union believes that its efforts towards providing better accommodation, will prove a very real attraction to the skaters and hockeyists this season. During the winter, sports of various kinds will be promoted, and if possible, a winter sports' meet will be held.

The executive wishes to publicly extend thanks to Mr. G. C. Boyd for his assistance in supervising the levelling; to Mr. J. A. Fraser for his donation of a barrel of fuel; and to the City of Wainwright for the use of its grading equipment.

With the activity and progress shown in such a short time, it is apparent that the organization fills a long-felt want in our community. The idea of providing facilities for healthful recreation among the young people of the town; to provide activities for the occupation of idle hours; to build that spirit which upholds the town's prestige in competition with other centres; all these are worthy aims for an organization.

It is in the best interests of every citizen, who has an ounce of sporting blood in his veins, to support the Wainwright Community Sports Union.

Most Baffling Murder of Year Coming to Elite

Oscar Piper and Hildegarde Withers again go adventuring in the field of crime solution, and there's much comedy, with mystery, killings and a little romancing, in "The Plot Thickens," which is booked for the Elite next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

The brunt of the production is carried by James Gleason in his familiar role as the cocksure detective, and by Zazu Pitta, who essays the Hildegarde part for the first time. From the fun angle, the team delivers all that is expected.

Rather cleverly, the story does not plunge into its basic premise immediately. In the early sequence, Oscar, with the unwelcome assistance of Hildegarde, is investigating a routine mystery murder in which there is a multitude of suspects, all of whom have legitimate motives. Eventually, the story gets down to cases and involves the efforts of a band of international crooks to loot a famous museum of its most valued exhibit. As the treasure is well protected, suspense is built up in strong style. The prospective thieves, however, police and museum officials but have not paid very much attention to the whimsical Hildegarde. Finally it is her ability to get at the bottom of things that enables Oscar to prevent the robbery and nab the killer.

CHILDREN SHOULD SUPPORT PARENTS

OTTAWA—Children able to support their aged parents should be compelled to do so rather than leave the parents as a burden on the state, the Dominion-provincial conference on old-age pensions agreed unanimously recently.

The conference, to which all provinces sent representatives, recommended "adequate" parents maintenance acts be passed by all provinces and enforced effectively. On the third day of its meeting, the conference continued discussion of administration problems and practices in connection with age and nationality requirements, determination of income and calculation of amount of pension, increase or reduction of pension of pension, time and method of making pensions, accounting and auditing and questions involved in control of property transfer.

CURLING CLUB AWAY AGAIN TO GOOD START FOR 1937-38

General organization meeting was held in the Town Hall on Friday, Nov. 5th at 8 p.m. J. W. Stuart in the chair and C. W. McBride acting as Secretary and about 35 members present.

On motion J. Telford-J. G. Simpson the minutes of last annual meeting held April 29th, 1937 and the financial statement were confirmed as read.

On motion H. P. Schilt-Dr. E. V. Springbett, Mr. J. W. Stuart continued to act as Chairman.

The Chairman then asked for nominations for President and the following were nominated:

E. R. Frickleton by W. Tansley. (Mr. Frickleton stated his reasons for having to decline).

H. P. Schilt was nominated by E. R. Frickleton.

Rev. Armstrong was nominated by O. W. Murray.

Dr. Springbett was nominated by J. A. MacKenzie.

(These three nominees also declined, each stating his reason).

Moved by F. Thurston-Cal. McKenzie—That the presidency be an honorary position only. The motion on being put to the meeting was lost.

Dr. Springbett nominated O. L. Michon.

Bob Lewis nominated Dr. Wallace, Cal. McKenzie nominated J. Telford.

F. Thurston nominated D. Davison. W. Tansley nominated W. Cowley. On motion of J. Welch-Geo. Clark nominations closed.

Deaf Ears Meet Oil Business Appeal

The biggest improvement in oil industry transportation has come since the war, as yet not 20 years ago.

In that time there has been a great abandonment of railroad transportation, partly because the railroads refused to see the demand of the time for better and more efficient transportation. While under force of government orders and war circumstances they adopted some of the oil industry's ideas, for the most part they turned deaf ears to its pleas. The oil business had to go on without the railroads and the latter have since paid a tremendous penalty.

In these last 20 years the motor truck has become a low cost, high speed, carrier for long and short hauls. The gasoline pipeline has developed. And in the last dozen years there has developed a third big transportation facility, namely, the water, in tanker and barge, for the most part a big company development.

All of this was without government aid or interference. On the other hand the railroads stood by, helpless under government control and confident, seemingly, that somehow the all-embracing government regulations would protect them. High rates and old-fashioned methods continued. Today oil is pretty much out of the rails and is running its own privately owned and operated transportation system.

We are sorry to learn that Mrs. Church, ar., suffered a sick spell on Saturday evening last when she had a slight attack.

Vernon McNally has been added to the staff at Safeways this week to fill the vacancy caused when Ed Walker was transferred to Leduc.

Englarged Unit Proposed At Meeting of Teachers

A meeting of all teachers in the newly proposed Wainwright larger unit was held in Wainwright on Saturday, November 6th. It is to be regretted that the attendance was disappointing, inasmuch as the business of the meeting was of vital import to all teachers.

(The Wainwright larger unit, according to Mr. J. A. Smith, geographical representative of the A.T.A. is to include the following sub-localities: Chauvin, Edgerton and Wainwright. It is not yet determined whether Irma will be included in the Wainwright larger unit or not.

A branch of the Alberta Teachers' Association was formed to correspond with the new unit. The following executive was elected:—Hon. Pres. Mr. L. Good, B.A.; pres. Mr. Welch, Edgerton; vice-pres. Mr. M. Meads, B.A.; Wainwright; sec.-treas. Miss M. Steele, Paschenburg; press correspondent, Miss M. Larrab, B.A., Wainwright.

The following is a brief summary of further business of the meeting: The fee for the Wainwright District Local, is $1.00 per annum, payable to the secretary.

A quorum for a meeting shall not be less than ten.

The annual meeting will be held during the local convention.

This branch of the A.T.A. took over the responsibility of the Musical and Dramatic Festival.

The Musical Festival committee consists of: Mr. O. Murray, Wainwright; Mr. S. Bonds, B.A., Edgerton; Mr. I. Reed, Irma.

There will be a Spring Rally but as yet the date is not set.

DRASTIC REMEDY TO STAMP OUT DISEASE

LONDON.—Orders were issued last night for the slaughter at Stowmarket, in Suffolk, of 400 cattle and 3,800 pigs. The bodies will be burned. The rigorous ruling resulted from discovery that one bullock in the Stowmarket sale yard was infected with the dread foot and mouth disease. The animals arrived at Stowmarket from various parts of the country. The doomed animals are valued between $12,000 and $15,000 ($59,400 and $74,250). The slaughter will take several days.

He Stepped Outside For a Fight—While
He Was Gone He Broke the Bank and Won $10,000!

In the year 1921, a hot-headed young man was swaggering along the boulevards of Paris. His pockets were almost empty, but his heart was filled with boiling rage. Why? Because he had been robbed of four million dollars. Or at least his family had. Years ago, his father, an American geologist and mining engineer, had gone to Russia, discovered an oil field, and amassed a huge fortune. Then, after the war, the Soviets had confiscated his property, and left him penniless. His son had fled to Paris to save his life, and there he found himself in 1921, with only twenty dollars between him and hunger.

So he took a chance. He drifted into a gambling club and bet five dollars on the game of chemin de fer. While his card was being drawn, a Frenchman stepped on his nose. He flared up, like a rocket, called the Frenchman a swine, and demanded that he apologize tout suite!

Did the Frenchman apologize? He did not! He was highly insulted, and challenged the young American to a duel. They didn't have swords or pistols, so they rushed out behind the club and tore into one another with their bare fists. A couple of black eyes, a bloody nose—and then they were parted.

When the arrogant young American came back to the gambling table, he was speechless. He had broken the bank. His stake had won not only once, but, while he was fighting, his winnings had kept on mounting by geometrical progres-

WAR . . . for righteousness. The air is full of war talk. Many people are afraid that our country will, somehow, be drawn into another world war. I have no idea how many Americans want "peace at any price" but I imagine that there are a good many millions of them. But I believe there are still a large number of people who hold the same view of war that Theodore Roosevelt did. He once said that he was for peace, but for righteousness first.

There are circumstances under which nations have to choose between peace and righteousness. In late years many peace advocates have been preaching the doctrine that this country was dragged into the World War by international bankers for the sake of the money they could make out of it. That, to my mind, is perfectly silly. We went into the World War to keep the Kaiser and his ambitious advisers from dominating the world.

If America had not entered the war, which we did, England and France would have become subject nations, and we would have a Kaiser controlled government in Canada, threatening us on an unguarded frontier 3,000 miles long.

EUROPE . . . conflict of ideas. The great conflict which is now going on in Europe is between two radically opposed concepts of civilization. They are so opposed that it is impossible both can exist for long on the same continent. One or the other system must eventually dominate. For a convenient one word description, we call one system Fascism, the other Democracy. The difference is in their basic ideas of the rights of man.

Fascism holds that the individual and used his American passport to go to Switzerland and smuggle back forbidden copies of a Bolshevik newspaper that Lenin was publishing in Geneva.

When he came to America in 1922, he tried to get a job teaching philosophy and sociology; but he couldn't.

Then he tried selling coal, and he failed at that.

Then he tried selling coffee, and he failed at that.

Finally, he gave private lessons in French literature to a group of Socialists in New York and acted as concert manager for his brother, who is a violinist.

It never occurred to him to try to teach bridge then. He was only a poor card player, but a very studious one. He asked so many questions and held so many post mortem examinations that he wanted to play with him. He read books about bridge, but they didn't help much, so he started to write a book himself. As the years went by, he wrote five books about bridge, but they were worthless, and he knew it, so he tore up the manuscripts before they were ever put in type. The books that he has written since then have been translated into a dozen languages and almost a million copies have been sold. One of his books has even been put into Braille so that the blind can improve their bridge games.

Culbertson first came to America in 1910. His Russian mother sent him here then because she wanted him to study at Yale. But he failed in his entrance examinations—failed because he didn't know enough English.

Think of it! He was an American citizen. He knew American history backwards and forwards. He spoke Russian, German, French, Spanish and Italian; but he couldn't get by in English. So he turned his back on Yale, drifted up to Canada, and got a job acting as a time-keeper for a gang of laborers who were building a railroad. With fiery oratory, he told them they were being cheated and underpaid, and robbed by the company stores. He stirred up trouble, organized a strike; and got himself kicked out of the company's employ.

It is quite probable that some of the women out west who now play the Culbertson system, have landed out sandwiches and hot coffee to Ely Culbertson at their back doors.

has no rights except such as are granted to him by the State, and those can be withdrawn at any time. Democracy rests upon the belief that the individual man's rights are supreme, and that the State has no authority except as the people grant it certain powers, which they can revoke at any time.

The doctrine under which the Kaiser ruled the German people, and which he sought to impose upon the rest of the world, was the doctrine of Hitler, of Mussolini in Italy, of Stalin in Russia. That is Fascism—the supremacy of the State. England and France and a few smaller nations are founded on the Democratic ideal. If there is another general European war it will be like the last one, a war between opposed ideas of human rights.

ASIA . . . democracy vs. autocracy. In the Far East a parallel situation exists, Japan has invaded and is bent on conquering China. The Chinese civilization has endured for 4,000 years. It is essentially Democratic. China has been "conquered" several times, but her people have managed to retain or regain their individual rights, and eventually to absorb their conquerors into their Democratic scheme of society, in which there has always been a minimum of government control.

Japan's philosophy is, in essence, the Fascist doctrine, that the State is all-powerful; the people are merely subjects of the Mikado. This doctrine is more deeply ingrained in the Japanese people because they sincerely believe in the Divinity of their Emperor, "The Son of Heaven." Personal liberty and beliefs must be subordinated to the will of the Mikado.

All of the "totalitarian" governments rely upon force to keep their own people in line. They have to, in an era when ideas about individual rights and personal liberty are so

This Week in Washington

Washington.—The President's Chicago speech and the events which have followed it in Washington have given the Washington picture a new perspective. Instead of Justice Black and the Supreme Court, the war situation, particularly in the Far East, is now the focus of political attention. Mr. Black sits on the Supreme Court bench, although a movement is on foot to bring impeachment proceedings against him in the House of Representatives. The Supreme Court issue is dormant, if not dead, for the general belief here is that Mr. Roosevelt will make no further effort to get Congress to authorize him to appoint additional judges.

The war issue, however, is very much alive. It has turned the eyes of the whole world to the United States and its President, and it has brought the question of American neutrality in wars between other nations sharply to the forefront of domestic politics. Mr. Roosevelt practically threw overboard the Neutrality Act, and abandoned the policy of isolation on which it is based, when he said in Chicago that the peace-loving nations of the world must make a concerted effort to be in opposition to nations breaking treaties and ignoring human instincts. His words were clearly aimed at Japan, and while he reiterated that America is determined to keep out of war, yet "we cannot insure ourselves against the disasters of war and the dangers of involvement." He suggested an international "quarantine" against nations guilty of violating their treaty obligations as a possible means of bringing them to their senses.

The intimation that the United States might be willing to co-operate with foreign powers in such a "quarantine" program was received with enthusiasm by England, France and Russia, but fell unpleasantly on the ears of the rulers of Germany, Italy and Japan. The State Department's statement, issued after a consultation with the President and the Cabinet, pleased the League of Nations and further displeased Japan. The Secretary of State called attention to the fact that Japan had violated not only the Nine-Power Treaty intended to protect China, but also the Kellogg-Briand pact of 1928 outlawing war as an instrument of national policy. The Nine-Power Treaty was signed in 1922 by the United States, Japan, Great Britain, China, France, Italy, the Netherlands, Belgium and Portugal and guarantees the independence of China and her territorial integrity, maintaining a stable government, promoting equal commercial opportunities in China for all nations, and binds the signatory powers not to seek special privileges in China at the expense of other nations. Wash-widespread. In a Democracy the military is subordinate to the civil power, in a totalitarian state the military case soon becomes supreme. When the military idea controls a nation, war is inevitable. Soldiers must fight. That is what has happened in Japan.

AMERICA . . . should avoid war. This country is not yet threatened by the Fascist or anti-Democratic idea expressed in terms of military force. Spain is the European battleground as China is the Asiatic. Conditions may easily arise in Europe when the Democratic scheme of civilization will be again threatened, as it was in 1914. Then we will have to decide whether we can stand alone as a Democracy, or whether we are justified in going to war to preserve our concept of human liberties. We don't face that alternative yet.

In Asia our problem is whether our national security is menaced by the aggression of a totalitarian State against an essentially Democratic State. So far nothing appears to me to justify this country in taking part in that war, either.

DEMOCRACY . . . threatened. Some ideas are dangerous things. They spread around the world and sound plausible in the ears of people who do not see their implications. The idea of a completely planned, organized and orderly state of society, appeals to many who do not count the cost. It does not mean the money cost, but the cost in things of more value than money.

The idea of a civilization in which everything is done by rule is as old as the first attempts of humanity to live together in communities. It works, however, only when the power of force to make people obey the rules. There are some rules on which the vast majority agree, mainly rules against murder and robbery. Even a Democracy admits the use of force to compel the observance of those rules. But a Democracy cannot tolerate the use of force to regulate people's thoughts or their expression, or to compel people to labor or live under conditions prescribed by the State. Only Fascism can do that.

I think America needs to guard against the spread of the Fascist idea as much as we need to guard against a foreign armed force.

The President did not formally declare that the state of war exists between Japan and China, but his suggestion of a "quarantine" in which all nations ought to join, and the intimation that the United States will take counsel with other powers to that end, have aroused the United States of the Neutrality Act that its purpose, that of keeping the United States neutral in quarrels between other nations, is being disregarded, but that we are actually "taking sides" by denouncing Japan, and may, conceivably, be drawn into hostilities because of that participation.

No one can clearly foresee all of the possible developments of the international situation, but it promises to hold the floor in Congress when it meets in special session, at the President's call, for the consideration of the Administration's "unlabeled business." At that session, the President told the Washington newspaper men, he will ask for a bill for control of crops, a bill for control of maximum hours and minimum wages, a bill or bills for reorganization of the Federal executive structure, and the Norris bill for the creation of seven regional planning authorities to recommend plans for a coordinated development of water power and other natural resources throughout the United States.

He promised the people of the Northwest, while he was out there, that farm legislation would be rushed through in order to make its benefits available to farmers in time for the 1938 crop season. The farm plan favored by the Administration is also the Nine-Power Planman bill introduced last spring. That is based on Secretary Wallace's "ever-normal granary" plan, with its provision for accumulating surplus surpluses from abundant crop years as an offset against lean years resulting from drought, pestilence and floods. Present home payments would be continued to farmers carrying out approved soil conservation methods and would be financed by processing or excise taxes as under the A.A.A.

WATCH FOR THE NAME

"Caterpillar"

THE NAME "CATERPILLAR"

Identifies the tractors, engines and road machines built only by Caterpillar Tractor Co.—and is registered the world over to protect the buyer, the seller and the manufacturer against imitations. This Trade-Mark on your tractor means tracks of top-grade alloy steel—heat-treated with distinctive "Caterpillar" processes to defy wear and absorb shock. "Looks" don't fool gritty soils or rough ground!

The name "Caterpillar" certifies to such important advancements as the simplest transmission of an track-type tractor—the fewest and strongest parts—heavy-duty bearings of correct size and type—final drives that have the complete protection of the automatic bellows-type seals of distinctive "Caterpillar" design.

And the name "Caterpillar" stands for 31 years of progressive experience—experience started by Holt and Best and carried on by their successor, Caterpillar Tractor Co. Experience resulting in such superior performance that Caterpillar Tractor Co. has built and sold more track-type tractors, every year since it was organized, than all other companies put together! This experience also has enabled "Caterpillar" to develop, pioneer and lead the world in Diesel-powered tractors!

AMONG THE OLD-TIMERS

"REMINISCERS OF OTHER DAYS"

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Although the turkey shoot which was held at the home of Mr. J. H. Dawson was poorly attended, those who were present enjoyed themselves immensely. Messrs. Bob Snyder, Harold Brunker and H. Archibald were the top notchers, each bringing home a goose and a turkey.

Mr. Ganderon of Heath purchased the old T. Simmons quarter section from Mr. Jas. Robinson last week.

Word was received that Mr. F. Lowe was injured overseas.

Rev. T. Murphy performed the marriage ceremony between Miss Lena Hershey and Mr. William Goodwin of Wainwright.

Johnny Hedlund had the misfortune to break a bone in his left arm while cranking his car last Friday evening.

The Malmberg brothers of Heath bought out the James Aikens interests in Hope Valley and made arrangements to take possession.

Mr. Norman E. Cook, who enlisted with the 49th battalion was last week promoted to the rank of Company Sergeant-Major.

Mr. Robert Gruber sold his farm and stock to Mr. James Robinson of Greenshields and left at the weekend for the coast.

Such conditions will be remedied by the construction of paved highways and tourists from elsewhere attracted in increased numbers.

GREENSHIELDS

We extend congratulations and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Tibbary, who were married on Friday afternoon, Mrs. Tibbary was the former Miss Frances Daniels, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Daniels.

Mrs. J. Somick was a visitor to Winnipeg last week.

Mr. Walter Jackson returned home from the hospital on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Patterson left on Friday to motor to Ontario, where they will spend the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Carl motored over to McLaughlin on Thursday to visit Mr. and Mrs. George Reynolds.

Mr. Douglas Jackson is a visitor to the city for a few days this week.

Everyone enjoyed the dance on Friday for the school Christmas concert fund.

LOCAL NOTES

Two minutes' silence is to be observed throughout the whole Empire at 11 a.m. tomorrow morning (Remembrance Day).

High school pupils will not attend school on Thursday and Friday owing to their tutors being in attendance at their annual convention in the city this week end.

Archdeacon Cornish, of Edmonton, was a visitor to town yesterday, to be present at a deanery meeting held in connection with the Anglican churches in this district.

We are sorry to hear that Mrs. John Moore of Hope Valley was on the sick list during the past week. She is now improving under the doctor's care.

Readers should peruse the list of land being placed in the annual tax sale by the Gut Edge M.D. It may save further expense.

After a few days shut-down for a suspected fever case, the local hospital is now open again and things going along as usual according to a report from the matron.

We learn that Earl Lissimore is to sail on the "Lettia" on the 25th to spend some time visiting friends and relatives in the Old Country.

Pears are ripe enough for canning if they are slippery to hold when peeling.

Finching peaches to see if they are ripe bruises them for the next buyer or the merchant.

HOW A HIT-AND-RUN DRIVER FEELS

Well, you got away with it. So far, anyway. Of course you're still a bit nervous. You are startled by doorbells; your palms sweat when you pick up the morning paper; your mouth gets dry when a stranger seems to stare at you. For there is just a possibility that some chance passer-by saw you. But your pulse is beginning to behave again. Each passing day brings added safety.

If it will make you feel any better, you may never be caught. But my craven fellow, you'll never escape yourself. You'll never escape the shame of having killed a child

TEN YEARS AGO

Mr. Jim Wilson of the Park staff was seen driving a new Chrysler sedan, which he purchased recently.

A slight blizzard visited town on Sunday last ushering in the winter season.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Aykroyd left during the past week for Spirit River where Mr. Aykroyd will operate a flour mill.

Connaught Chapter O.E.S. held a very pleasant evening of progressive whist in the C.N. Club room where about two dozen tables were in play. Prizes for the evening went to Messrs. W. Knowles, T. Billing and T. Lissimore and Messrs. W. Olsen, W. Wheaton and G. Hudson.

The annual bazaar sponsored by the Ladies' Aid of St. Andrew's (Pres.) church attracted a large crowd on Saturday afternoon.

Mr. W. Mills was here from the coast last week in connection with his farm holdings at this point.

Following the regular meeting of Adeline Rebekah Lodge on Thursday evening, the Odd Fellows gave the ladies a little surprise by invading their hall and treating them to a social evening. Bro. F. Morris acted as M.C. for the evening which was very much enjoyed.

A. Wheaton purchased a new Pontiac coach from the local dealer in town last week.

You will live the rest of your days blurring yourself into believing that you didn't have time to think (although life's crises are not scheduled for men's convenience); that anybody else would have done the same thing (although you don't dare tell anybody else); and that it wasn't murder, but just an accident (although people hid themselves after

Notice Board

All entries for the Armistice Hour on Armistice Day are requested to be at the Elite Theatre at 3.30 on the afternoon of the 11th. This is not for rehearsal but so that the timing and arrangement of the programme may be gone into and a smooth working performance presented to the public.

Complimentary tickets to all 'con-stantists' will be available at that time and it is hoped that all can be present.

For the benefit of comrades from a distance we wish to advise that there will be Holy Communion celebrated at the Anglican church, Wainwright, Armistice Day at 8 a.m.

In another column of this paper we have tried to give an outline of the Armistice Celebration in Wainwright so that all may know what to expect and the time table for same.

I am requested by the Branch to take this opportunity of thanking all the ladies who worked so hard the Annual Poppy Day a success and also to express our appreciation to the Public for their continued support.

An accident. The days will be trying, but not so bad compared with the nights, when you lie awake with your conscience and when, having fallen asleep at last, dreams steal into your tired brain to re-enact that scene of secret shame. Yes, the nights will be hard.

A thousand times you will wish to release that pen-al-shame, to scream: "I killed a child and ran away!" It would make you feel better, but you won't do it.

SECOND INSTALLMENT

SYNOPSIS: Slim Loyale is paroled from prison after serving 18 months for a crime he did not commit. He returns to his Circle L ranch to find his father dead and whistles for Slim, trying to make him violate his parole so that he can again be railroaded to prison.

"When Starbuck hears of this—this," he gasped, "you're all through, Loyale, you damned—"

Abe Brockwell shook him roughly. "Best thing yuh can do is close yore mouth an' keep it so, Brockwell. If Starbuck comes smoochin' around here I'll tell him it was me who whaled yuh, not Slim. Now yuh take yore rotten poison off this ranch an' stay off. I told yuh, 'Someday,' get gone!"

Leo Brockwell went, with Abe Brockwell in close attendance. As the door closed behind them, Mona, awake suddenly to the somewhat embarrassing position she had taken, and slipped away from Slim, faint color whipping from her cheeks.

Slim did not appear to notice her confusion. His head was bent and Slim was silent, thinking. "Yeah," he muttered finally, "it could be done. Flash Courtney, eh?" He looked at Mona. "How come yuh ain't been able to fight him off? Have yuh taken it up with Jigger Starbuck?"

Mona shrugged. "I've seen Starbuck about it, but so far he hasn't done a great deal. When Dad died he left a lot of debts. Those whom he owed to weren't very patient about it. It got to where I couldn't stand being hassled at any longer. So I borrowed five thousand dollars and paid off all those old debts."

"I thought that owing the money in one lump sum to the right sort of a person would enable me to get more time and pull through. But I find it was merely robbing Peter to pay Paul. This sale I was dickerin' with the Brockwells for, would have helped some, but I imagine it was just a matter of stalling off the inevitable a little longer. I'm afraid I'm going to lose my ranch, Slim."

Mona's voice was choked and teary as she finished.

"Whod yuh borrow that money

PIPE
TOBACCO
FOR A MILD, COOL SMOKE

or other, I feel pretty confident of that."

Mona's more spirited tone did not fool Slim a bit. He saw through it and understood the villainous character of this slip of a Western girl. Without kill or kin she was waging a lone-handed, losing battle against big odds, and she was courageously facing the ultimate. Slim's eyes softened as he watched her. Little Starbuck, that's what she was.

"We won't talk about that any more," he drawled. "One thing is plumb certain, though; yuh ain't ever gonna lose yore ranch. Whether yuh like it or not, Mona, I shore won't stand for some slick Jasper like George Arthur, foreclosing on yuh. That's final. Now cheer up; let's be happy for a change." He gave her a comforting pat on the arm.

Strangely enough, they did fall into channels of easy range gossip. There was much that had happened while Slim had been away. Flash Courtney had died; other had married; babies had been ushered into the world—just homely gossip that did a lot for them both in easing them and cheering them up. When Slim squeezed Mona's hand and left, some two hours later, he was humming happily to himself. It was good to be back again.

As Slim Loyale headed homeward through the velvet night, he had already made up his mind as to how he would ward off the cloud that was hanging over Mona. He had decided the first thing on the following morning, he promised himself, he would ride in to Pinnacle and hunt up George Arthur.

Then he would buy up the mortgage on the Dot If Dot if it cost him a thousand dollars more than the amount of the note. He'd say nothing to Mona about it. When she did finally learn what had happened, there would be nothing she could do. Slim grinned to himself. He knew Mona would be as mad as hope, but she'd get over it.

A couple of miles drifted back under the steadily thrumming hoofs of his bronco. He was still engrossed with thought and plans concerning Mona when, out of nowhere it seemed, a mounted figure rose before him in the trail. Slim jerked erect, wary and suspicious. Unconsciously he reached to his thigh, only to realize that he had left his guns at home.

"What d'ya mean, Slim?" came a husky undertone. "Shore an' there's dirt work abroad tonight. Not another step unless yuh'll be after wantin' a coward slug in the ribs."

"Roy!" exclaimed Loyale. "Roy O'Brien, what in blazes are yuh ridin' around at this time of night?"

Roy swung his mount close beside Slim's. "Divil a bit do yuh worry about the why an' wherefore, lad," he answered. "I'm swappin' hats an' broncs with yuh now."

Without waiting for the expected Slim's comment, Roy swept off Slim's cream sombrero, replacing it with his own roll-brimmed black one. Then he swung to the ground.

Still bewildered, Slim alighted to the ground but he did not relax his grip on the reins of his grey gelding. "What's the meanin' of all this business, Roy?" he insisted. "Open up or I don't move a step."

Roy swore softly. "I tell yuh there be goateats an' dirty spalpeens ridin' tonight, lad. 'Tis yuh they are after. Unless yuh listen to old Roy, yuh'll never git home alive. But we'll be after follin' them."

"Do as I say. Go north to the town trail an' then home. I'll wait here an hour and give yu plenty of time. Then I'll start home myself. But I'll be drunk and singin' loud so yuh'll never git home alive. But we'll be after follin' them."

"Because of this devil of a light-colored horse and hat of yores. Yuh loom up like a lighthouse, lad. Do as yore told. Or does old Roy have to muscle yuh down an' make yuh?"

At last Slim was beginning to realize what was up. Somewhere along the homp trail men were hidden out, waiting to throw a slug

Hints for the Household

Conducted By Betty Barclay

LUSCIOUS SALADS

Salads served in individual moulds are the thing today. The size of the mould may be varied to take care of the requirements of wee sister, big brother and dad. When company comes, attractive forms of uniform size but varying shapes, are in order. Here are two salad recipes that will please:

Raw Vegetable Salad
1 package salad gelatin (aspic)
1 cup boiling water
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup cold water
1 tablespoon scraped onion
½ cup chopped cabbage
½ cup chopped celery
½ cup grated carrot

Soak the salad gelatin in boiling water. Add salt and cold water; add lemon juice and onion. Chill until mixture begins to thicken, then add vegetables. Pour into shallow pan or individual moulds and chill until firm. Garnish and serve as salad. Serves 6.

Cottage Cheese and Carrot Salad
1 package salad gelatin (aspic)
1 cup boiling water
1 cup cold water
2 teaspoons vinegar
½ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons minced onion
1 cup grated carrot
1 tablespoon chopped parsley

Dissolve salad gelatin in boiling water; add cold water, vinegar, salt and onion. Chill until it begins to thicken; add remaining ingredients and mix well. Pour into ring mould and chill until firm. Unmould and fill center of ring with cold salad greens, lettuce, chicory, mixed watercress or raw spinach, mixed lightly with French Dressing. Serves 6.

Shrimp Omelet
(Serves 6)
6 eggs
6 tablespoons hot water
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 can shrimp
4 tablespoons lemon juice
¼ teaspoon paprika

Separate eggs, beat whites until stiff and yolk until creamy. Add hot water and baking powder to yolks. Fold in whites. Pour into a heated omelet pan which has been greased with melted butter, and cook slowly. When done, remove from the center and cover half with the shrimp which have been drained, minced and seasoned with the lemon juice and paprika. Fold top half over lower half and serve immediately.

PROTECTION THROUGH SEALING

Glass packed foods have assumed a trimmer beauty and a greater practical and economic value. A new process technically known as vapour-vacuum sealing which hermetically seals foods packed in glass has accomplished this triple feat.

But what does this process do for Mrs. Consumer? This after all, is the important thing. First of all, foods packed in glass under this process are definitely more attractive, for this type of seal permits the use of a cap with a baked enamel lining that gives a neat tailored appearance to the bottle. And the cap, because of its particular kind of lining, imparts no foreign odor to the food it protects. These caps, unlike through him as he rode by. Roy had found it out, and the faithful Irishman was going to take Slim's risk upon his own willing shoulders.

"Damn it all, Roy, I can't let yuh do it," objected Slim, huskily. "They'll plug yuh for me sure."

"Not if I sing loud enough," stated Roy. "I sing like nothin' else in the wide world. Besides I've got my guns an' I can use 'em without worryin' about bustin' no parole."

Now do as I say like a good lad. Yore wastin' time arguin'."

The irony of his position dug deep into Slim. It was maddening to be placed always thus, on the defensive with no way of fighting back. His pride was quick and fierce, more so perhaps because of the wrong which had been done him by the miscarriage of justice.

other caps, can be removed easily. Lifting with the flat side of a table knife does the trick. No damage is done the cap when it is removed which means that the efficiency of the seal is not impaired and it serves as a convenient covering until the contents of the jar have been used.

More important than beauty of package however, is the protection this type of seal affords all foods that come under the magic of its seal. Let's consider what it does for mayonnaise which is one of the most perishable products packed in glass. Under this hermetic seal all air from the headspace of the jar is removed, and a vacuum is created which takes effect when the cap is applied. Both headspace and cap have been made sterile. Naturally without air in the headspace and a sterile closure rancidity and discoloration of the mayonnaise are prevented. Possibility of separation of the mayonnaise is reduced because the product does not become cold, and the products separate more easily than fresh. The fresh home-made flavors are retained.

All foods packed in glass under the vapor-vacuum seal attain the same kind of protection as does mayonnaise—in other words this hermetic seal insures the freshness of the product.

The World of Wheat

By
H. G. L. Strong,
Director, Research Department,
Searle Grain Company, Ltd.

"What causes the occasional wide fluctuations with wheat prices? Is it supply, or demand, or money, or is it the speculators with their buying and selling?" a friend recently asked.

All these things, of course, have some effect upon price. Speculation in itself, however, has the smallest effect of any—an effect certainly very much less than most people believe.

The real villain that brings about the great price fluctuations, as far as instance from $1.2 to $2.90 that occurred with wheat at Liverpool from 1914 to 1921, and from $2.90 in 1921 to 71 cents in 1931, is WAR! In the past 500 years there have been only three great World Wars: The Thirty Years War in Germany from 1618 to 1648, the Napoleonic Wars from 1795 to 1815, and the recent Great War from 1914 to 1918.

The price of wheat during each of these Wars rose to a peak of three times its pre-war price, and then fell in post-war years to a figure much lower than that pre-war point. It has always been the same, and no doubt ever will be, but only when War occurs. The only way to stop it all is to do away with WAR itself.

Following factors have tended to raise price. Brazil buys U.S. wheat—Rain badly needed in Argentina—Crop deterioration in New South Wales and Victoria—England buys U.S. spring wheat—Spain again buys wheat on the Continent—Argentina wheat production indicated around only 220 million—Sugar cane condition below normal in South Africa.

Following factors have tended to lower price: Rains benefit new seed beds in France—Good rye crop in Latvia—Coffee plants excellent in New Caledonia—Green peas in condition of vineyard good—Favorable reports of rice crops in Tanganyika—Increased offerings of Russian wheat—Continued low demand from importing deficit areas.

"I'm Astonished"

said the advertising head of a big departmental store in Vancouver, "that merchants in small, rural centres don't use the columns of their community papers more than they do. We would be glad to do so but in order to protect their merchants, the small-town papers usually refuse us that privilege. I'll tell you why. Unless you take a big space in a city daily it's lost. Then very few city readers read all the big papers; they all read the front page but there's no advertising there. Then they turn to their favorite pages and may miss your ad. altogether unless it's so big they can't. Then it's thrown away. See what happens to the community paper. All the family reads it from front page to back and it's kept around the house until the next issue comes out. Many people keep files of it as local records of the district. In favor of the small-town paper you have:

1. PROTECTION AGAINST OUTSIDE COMPETITION.
2. LOW COST.
3. INTENSIVE READER INTEREST.

We don't get half such good value in the city daily."—Talk this over with the

AM I MY BROTHER'S KEEPER?
This is not a sermon, nor a one-day-in-seven-talk. It is a message for every day and every hour of the day for every person who moves on and about our highways. Especially it is intended for those who drive automobiles but it also contains a message for those who still classify themselves as pedestrians.

If an army suddenly appeared in any Canadian city and shot to death 1,250 people and maimed 20,000 others, words would fail to describe the horror of it all. Unbelievable, unthinkable you say. Yes it is; but during the present year 1,250 Canadians will be killed and 20,000 others will be more or less maimed or disabled by machines of death in the hands of fellow Canadians in the great majority of instances. These instruments of destruction are not machine guns nor rifles nor armaments of artillery. No, they are sleek looking peace time creatures whose makers never intended that they should bring harm or disaster to a living soul. They are called automobiles.

And why then do they kill and maim? Because—somebody blunders, somebody gets excited, somebody does the wrong thing, somebody drinks alcoholic beverages and then tries to control a mighty mechanical force, somebody hurries, somebody drives too fast, somebody darts out on the road, somebody says—I will let the other fellow look out for me, somebody doesn't care, somebody plays fool, somebody makes a mistake—a terrible mistake—and a life is snuffed out.

What are we going to do about it? What are you going to do about it? This appalling loss of life and limb—to say nothing of the seventy million dollar money loss that goes with it—is a problem of gigantic proportions and one that must be met.

But parliaments cannot stop it. Resolutions won't cure it. Public meetings will not eradicate the evil. The problem is strictly up to every individual who drives and every individual who walks on the highways.

In the first place no automobile should ever go on the road unless it is mechanically safe. Every driver knows what this means, and every driver who breaks this rule is courting disaster for himself and somebody else.

In the second place no driver should take the wheel of an automobile on the highway unless that driver feels qualified to control the car under emergency as well as under normal driving conditions. Disregard of this may mean not only disaster but should be regarded as criminal negligence. If you do not feel absolutely fit to drive, don't drive.

It would be a splendid thing if a slogan somewhat like the following were printed on every windshield. "I don't want to be maimed or killed, neither does any one else."

ALICE STEVEN'S HOME SERVICE

Cake-making presents more difficulties than most types of cookery. There are so many things that can go wrong with a cake and it is difficult to know just what did happen.

I was at an afternoon tea last week and every lady present had her own ideas about a recipe for a plain cake. It always seems to me that a plain cake is the real test of a cook's ability. Each of these ladies seemed to have her own special problem. I wondered if you were having difficulties but I thought you might be interested in this recipe. It has been tested and developed over a period of years and has proved to make a product of high quality when the directions for mixing and baking are accurately followed.

PLAIN LAYER CAKE

- 2 cups flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup butter
- 1 cup sugar
- 2 eggs
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

Sift the flour, then measure accurately. Mix the baking powder and salt with this measured flour. Cream the butter until it beats evenly and is evenly soft. Add the sugar to it, gradually creaming while adding. Beat the eggs and add them to the well-creamed butter and sugar. Sift in the flour mixture a little at a time, alternately with the milk. Add the flavoring and beat thoroughly. Pour the batter into well-oiled nine inch round cake tins and bake at 375 degrees for 25 or 30 minutes.

Accurate measurements cannot be over-stressed. The experienced cook can measure the flour with the old blue cup without a handle but the beginner must have the proper proportion of ingredients. This calls for standard measuring cups and spoons and an accurate recipe. Don't over or under-measure the ingredients, especially the flour and liquid. Here are some of the more common difficulties:—

1. When too much flour is used:—
1. The cake may peak.
2. The cake may crack.
3. The texture may be too bread.
4. The crust may be tough.

- When too little flour is used:—
1. The batter may be thin.
2. The texture may be compact and tough.
3. The cake may fall.
- When too much fat is used:—
1. The cake may be heavy and compact.
2. The cake may fall.
3. The texture may be crumbly.

- When too little fat is used:—
1. The cake may be dry and tough.
2. The cell walls may be coarse and heavy.
3. The texture may be bread.
4. The crust may be smooth.
5. The crust may be tough.
6. The cake may be pale.

Overmixing causes:—

1. Tough cell walls.
2. Dry cake.
3. Heavy and underize cake.

Undermixing causes:—

1. Tunnelled textures.

NEWS & VIEWS OF TOWN AND DISTRICT

BORN—To Mr. and Mrs. V. Ganderton, at Powell River, B.C., on October 30th, a boy.

We are informed that Mr. and Mrs. A. McQuinn are planning to leave shortly to spend the winter at the coast.

Mr. Pat O'Reilly, who has been in poor health for some time, is again a patient at the hospital.

Mr. A. Kristensen who has farmed north of town for some years, will move into town following his auction sale by Bill Stuart.

Don't forget to clean your chimneys, examine your stove pipes and look over your fire insurance policies before the real cold weather sets in and your heating equipment has to bear the heavy strain of winter heating. Joe Welch for "insurance" that insures.

Mrs. J. A. Mackenzie has been enjoying a visit from her mother from Chauvin.

Miss Muriel Durrant, a former resident, was visiting friends in town over the week-end.

Mr. P. Patterson and family left last week by car to spend the winter in the east with relatives. Mr. C. Patterson will live on the farm during their absence.

Another carload of Wildfire coal is in this week as well as several cars of lumber. Fill your needs NOW at the Atlas yard. Joe Welch, agent.

Miss B. Bowerman has now returned from her visit to friends in Ontario, and is to continue her studies in the city.

Dr. and Mrs. Middlemas drove over to Warburg last week to visit their daughter, who is in charge of the school there.

Word was received in town that the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Spavin, who recently left for B.C., was run over by a truck with the result that the child's leg was broken in two places.

No matter how small that improvement you plan may be, the Home Improvement Plan will help you. See Joe Welch about it.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. John Moore of Hope Valley on attaining their golden wedding anniversary. They were married on Manitoulin Island, Ont., on Nov. 9th, 1887. Mrs. Moore being Miss Lucy Cannard. Of the eight children born, six are still living.

Twenty-four candidates seek votes for the seven seats vacant in the Edmonton city elections being held today.

Following a sick spell, little Bruce Springbett is now recovering and is able to play around again.

We are sorry to learn that Mrs. H. C. Wallace is on the sick list. By an unfortunate slip on the stairs at home on Saturday last, she sustained a badly sprained knee, and as it is the same member which she had previously injured it is unfortunately to cause her to join the "shut-ins" for some time.

Roy McLaughlin of the Royal bank staff at Holden spent the week-end here with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Davidson of Dodds, Alta., were in town over the week-end to visit their parents here.

Pit your house with storm sash and doors; insulate the walls and ceilings with Moss-Tex or shavings. Build a winter porch or a modern kitchen. Finish your attic or basement or lay hardwood floors. All these improvements can be financed with a Home Improvement Loan. Call and have Joe Welch explain how simply you can have a comfortable home.

Notice to Delinquents!—Have you this week missed a friend to smile? a dog to wag his tail? or paid up your subscription to this paper? If you have not, then Brother mend your ways!

In preparation for his big buffalo hauling contract which he has secured, Mr. W. Bibby, sr., spent a few days in Calgary last week. The Burns' Co. will be responsible for the kill, and are to handle all the products this year.

We are pleased to see Walter Gunn around again after his recent accident, although he still puts lots of reliance in the crutches.

Mr. J. A. Madill, D.P.A., and Mr. A. R. McDougall, Trav. P.A., both of the C.N.R., were in town on Monday on business for a few hours.

The question is being asked around town—By whose authority is the basement of the Town Hall being used as a potato storage warehouse? And who gets permission for the use of the ratapany property? What rental is being charged? And who is collecting—from whom?

The Imperial Oil Co.'s radio broadcast of the big hockey games each Saturday night from the Maple Leaf Gardens in Toronto, is truly a splendid gesture by this well-known company. Last Saturday's game reached the hundreds of listeners in town in fine shape.

We are glad to learn that Miss Sewell, who has been a scarier patient is now getting along splendidly from her recent attack.

A truly large crowd attended the annual bazaar and supper put on in the Masonic hall by the ladies of St. Thomas' church last Saturday. The big pile of goods found ready buyers and the supper was indeed par excellence.

Quits a number of the town ladies of all ages spent a busy time on Saturday last in disposing of a record number of floral emblems of Flinders Fields for the annual Poppy Day, and the boys of the local Legion extend their hearty thanks for this kindly assistance.

Bill Stuart had another successful sale last week when he "hammered off" the effects of the H. U. Taylor farm.

Clarence Alexander, who has been suffering from a slight injury to his shoulder is now feeling better and at work again.

The local Child Welfare Committee are in need of cast-off clothing to distribute to the needy of the district, and any parcels left at the Hannah hardware store or The Star office will be appreciated.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Aykroyd, and Mrs. Fred Aykroyd, motored to the city last week to attend the wedding of Miss Crystal Aykroyd which took place there on Saturday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. G. L. Huxson. Mr. and Mrs. Evan Harold, the newly-weds will reside in the city.

No less than 27 would-be "stars" as well as a couple of short sketches will assuredly give you some plenty for their money at the Legion Amateur concert in the theatre tomorrow (Thursday) night.

The Atlas Lumber Co. are unloading a car of lumber and a car of Wildfire coal this week. Give us your orders now. Joe Welch.

Mr. Ernie Smith was a business tripper to the city during the week.

COMING EVENTS

The ladies of the United church will hold their bazaar in the L.O.O.F. Hall on Saturday Nov. 27th, commencing at 3 p.m. Sale of home cooking; afternoon tea will be served.

The ladies of the C.W.I. will hold their annual bazaar in the Separate School Auditorium on Saturday, December 4th next. Watch for further announcements.

The St. Andrew's (Pres.) L.A. will hold their annual bazaar in the L.O.O.F. hall on Saturday, Nov. 13th, starting at 2:30 p.m. Fancy and useful articles on sale, with nothing over One Dollar. Home cooking and candy. Afternoon tea served, 15c.

Your opportunity to assist the Alberta Protestant Home for Children, at Wainwright and Lethbridge (under the auspices of the L.O.B.A. and L.O.L. will be held in the Masonic Hall on Wednesday, November 17th. Good Time; Good Prizes (including door prize on view at McLeod furniture store). Admission 50c.

A Card Party in the interests of the Child Welfare movement will be held in the Elite theatre on Wednesday, Nov. 24th by the W.I. Cards will start at EIGHT o'clock, followed by supper and a dance. Good Prizes, and a real good time. Admission 50c.
